

Classes at The Clay Centre

The Clay Centre is a new teaching venue in Carrboro, NC, specializing in pottery and art classes for teens and adults. We have well-equipped, professional studios with an emphasis on exchange among artists, collaboration, and group creative energy. We encourage students of all levels to expand their creative activities within a supportive community of artists and teachers. Our classes range from teaching basic skills to providing technical information for more advanced clay artists.

Registration takes place at The Clay Centre in person or by mail. Please come to The Clay Centre during business hours (M-F, 10-4) or mail in your registration form. Forms may be downloaded from our website, www.claycentre.com. Please include payment with your registration form (make checks payable to Classes at the Clay Centre).

Withdrawal or refunds: No refunds will be given after the first class has met. Before classes have met, if a student withdraws following registration, a $20 administrative fee will be retained. If a class is not held as scheduled, students will receive a full refund.

Open Studios will be held as announced. Students currently enrolled in classes may come to practice their skills. No fee will be charged for open studios. There will be a charge for firing pieces made from additional clay.

Policies of The Clay Centre: Sorry, there are no pets allowed at The Clay Centre. There is no smoking anywhere on the premises for safety and for health. The Clay Centre is a community of working artists and is built on the mutual respect of all who work and study here.
